My hobby is playing guitar. I have been playing since I was 15 and should be better than I am at this point, but it is a labor of love. I like to play classic rock and blues.

Hodophiles at heart, my husband and I take one or more trips abroad each year. This past spring, we cleaned the “pandemic dust” off our hiking boots and took to the Scottish Highlands and the Isle of Skye for a bit of adventure. The pictures, above, are from several of our favorite treks, including Quiraing, Quinag, and Coral Beach.

Chris loves competition. When he is not competing for his clients, you might find him competing at the poker table, or the golf course, or even from the bleachers at Fenway park.

One of my main hobbies is cooking, it helps me unwind after work, it's a creative outlet, and the food usually tastes pretty good! Hot pot is one of my favorite cold weather dishes because the two broths are the perfect things to take the edge off of a winter chill. My wife loves this dish so much that she excitedly refers to the colder months as "Hot Pot Season."

If you want to go someplace really beautiful and interesting, go to Iceland. When I am not working, I love traveling anywhere and everywhere. Here I am with my husband Jon standing on what was once cooling lava.

I've always loved to take photographs. Here is a collage of some winter photos from last year. I'm not in them because I'm always the shutterbug behind the lens.

Bike touring is one of my favorite hobbies and my preferred way to see a country, because bikes are fast enough to cover a lot of ground, yet slow enough to see everything and meet people on the way. The photo to the left was taken in Bad Säckingen, on the German side of the Rhine. The centuries-old wooden bridge behind me leads to Stein, Switzerland, and it is the longest covered bridge in Europe.

Outside of work, I enjoy spending time with my family, wandering around the city, and sightseeing in new places. Here we are in Salem, Massachusetts this past October after going on a Halloween ferry ride. Above is a photo I took in Charlestown of the Bunker Hill Monument.

Most of my free time is spent with my family. My grandparents spend the month of September here in MA before heading back to Naples so every year while they are here we have our annual apple picking day which includes our early Thanksgiving since we are all together *please note I am taller than my sister...she had on heels. (Sister is on left, mom is in middle, I'm on the right)

I don't have fancy camera equipment or anything but I enjoy photography and taking photos with my phone. It's been said the best camera is the one you have on you! Here is a photo of me taking pictures for my cousin to use on her small business social media account. Another photo from that same photoshoot is attached, as well as a random photo of a lightbulb that I found interesting.

I have played baseball or softball for as long as I can remember. For the last ten years or so, I have played on various slow pitch softball teams around Boston. For me, softball is a fun way to exercise, blow off some steam, and meet new people. It also just makes feel like a kid again!

My husband also suggested that my photo include our two dogs – Betty and Judy – who follow me around everywhere, and are also a hobby of sorts!

I like to go to the family lake house whenever I can. Although summer is my favorite time to be at the lake, I'm an all-season enthusiast.

I do love baking too, the smell and feel of flour, sugar, eggs and butter relaxes me. Above is a lemon meringue pie I made last Easter.

I enjoy all things plant-related: gardening, searching for wild foods, swapping house-plant babies with friends, etc. Perhaps number one on that list is the simple joy of a walk in the woods. Here I am taking a pause during a stroll at the New England Botanic Garden at Tower Hill.

I play second base in a fast-pitch, over-30 baseball league. The league has 14 teams, and we play Sunday mornings from April through September. This was my first year playing, and I'll definitely be back for more next year.

I am a huge fan of reading and I especially love to explore used bookstores! Even though my favorite genre is a good cozy mystery, I am always on the lookout for new recommendations in different genres. So far this year I have read 35 books, but my "To Be Read" list never seems to shrink...

As a soccer fan, I try to go to as many matches as I can. Here I am at the U.S. Women's National Team's game against Germany. While my seats are not always this good, it's always fun to watch a match live – and even more fun when they win.

Here is most definitely my top moment of 2022. Anyone who knows me knows I am a pretty passionate Boston sports fan, specifically the Red Sox, and this past May a foul ball happened to fall in my lap (I had seats under a net, but there was an opening). Catching a ball at Fenway Park is a once in a lifetime experience and a memory that I will forever cherish!
